

1. Go to your Cortana Search Box next to your Start Button, type 'Control Panel,' and select it from the list.

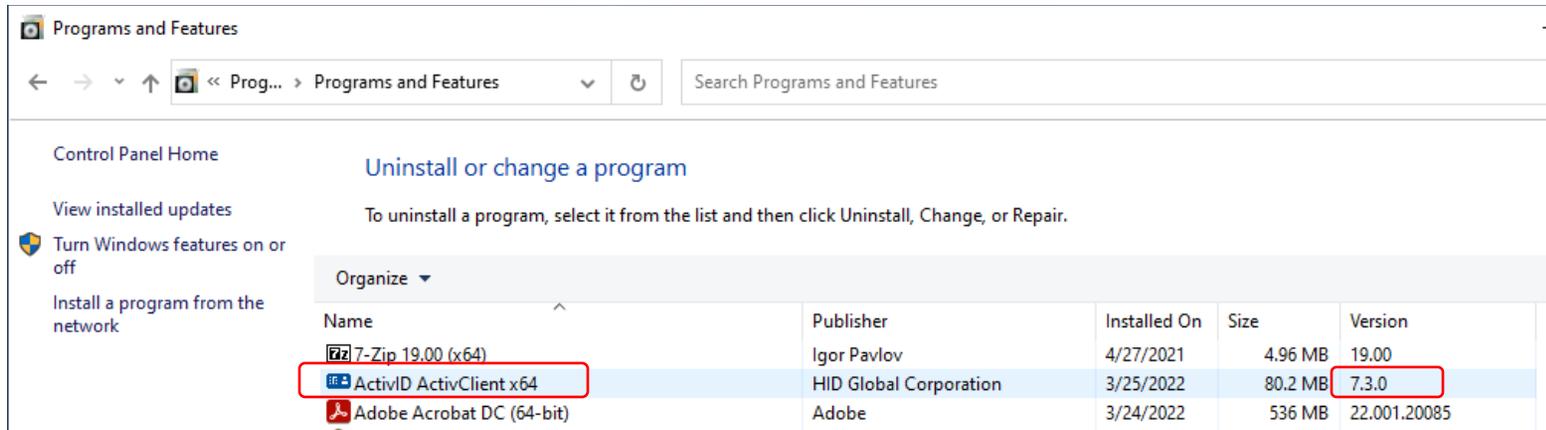

2. Select 'Programs' or 'Programs and Features' depending on how your PC is setup.

3. Select 'Programs and Features' from the selections on the right (Note: some of you may jump to the next screen).

4. You will see ActivClient Software listed in the Programs as ActivID ActivClient. Versions starting with 7.1, 7.2, and 7.3 are all compatible with Windows OS 7, 8, 8.1, 10, and 11; future Windows OS Updates may change that.

The screenshot shows the Windows Control Panel window for "Programs and Features". The window title is "Programs and Features". The breadcrumb navigation shows "Programs and Features". There is a search bar labeled "Search Programs and Features". The main heading is "Uninstall or change a program". Below this, there is a sub-heading "To uninstall a program, select it from the list and then click Uninstall, Change, or Repair." There is an "Organize" dropdown menu. Below the menu is a table of installed programs. The table has five columns: Name, Publisher, Installed On, Size, and Version. The row for "ActivID ActivClient x64" is highlighted in blue, and its name and version number "7.3.0" are circled in red. Other programs listed include "7-Zip 19.00 (x64)" and "Adobe Acrobat DC (64-bit)".
